TWINS' FARMS AGAIN PACE A. L.

In 1975, for the second year in a row, the five minor league affiliates of the Minnesota Twins posted the best cumulative won-lost record among American League farm systems.

Twins' outposts won 349 games and lost only 268, a percentage of .566, just a shade under the team's 347-264, .568 log of 1974. That figure led the majors and, in 1975, only San Diego, which operated just four farms, exceeded the Twins' record . . . and then just barely. The Padres' farms played 124 games fewer than did Twins' affiliates, a factor bearing strongly on the fact that they outdid the Twins by .002.

The standings:

American League	Won	Lost	Pct.
Minnesota	349	268	.566

Calvin R. Griffith

PRESIDENT AND CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

In fifteen seasons of operating his Minnesota Twins, none proved more disappointing to Calvin R. Griffith than did the 1975 campaign.

Hopes for his club were extremely high at the start of the season. The 1974 team had surged over the last half of the season to give rise to those hopes. It was a young team, a team made up of players just finding themselves as major leaguers.

Then, in 1975 spring training, those young Twins went out and won 17 games in exhibition play, the most wins ever by a Twins' team in pre-season competition. So, when the season opened in April and the Twins took the Texas Rangers into camp in their first two games, optimism reigned everywhere, including the offices of team president Griffith.

It wasn't to last, however, as the still-inexperienced Twins began to make those crucial mistakes that always seem to cost a ballgame. Next, as is frequently the case with a club that's struggling, injuries crept onto the scene. Laid up at one time or another were pitchers Joe Decker, Bert Blyleven and Ray Corbin, outfielders Larry Hisle, Steve Brye and Lyman Bostock, shortstop Danny Thompson, third baseman Eric Soderholm, designated hitter Tony Oliva and catcher Phil Roof.

Hoping to turn things around for 1976, Mr. Griffith made a change in managers, turning the club over to 16-year National League managing veteran Gene Mauch. It was a move made in hopes of instilling a new attitude into the team, of making the Twins once again a dominant factor in American League action as they were in the late 1960's.

Mr. Griffith was christened Calvin Robertson when he was born in Montreal, Quebec, Canada on December 1, 1911. In 1922, he and his sister Thelma were brought to Washington, D. C., to live with their uncle, Clark Griffith, who owned the Washington Senators Baseball Club. Thelma is now Mrs. Thelma Griffith Haynes, co-owner of the Twins with Calvin.

Adopted by Clark Griffith, Calvin was educated at Staunton Military Academy and George Washington University and operated and managed baseball clubs in Chattanooga, Tenn., and Charlotte, N. C., before coming back to Washington to assist his adopted father in the operation of the Senators.

When Clark Griffith died on October 27, 1955, the ballclub passed into Calvin's hands. One day short of five years later, the still-young man took Horace Greeley's advice and moved westward, setting up operations in Minnesota's Metropolitan Stadium.

It's been an extremely successful period for the Twins, the Griffith family and the fans of the Upper Midwest . . . difficulties of recent seasons notwithstanding. Assisted in the daily operations of his club by his son, Clark III, his vice-presidents and his board of directors, Mr. Griffith is confident that the corner has been turned and that in concert with the spirit of this Bicentennial Year, 'everything's UP for '76!'

Manager

MAUCH, Gene William No. 4

Born November 18, 1925, in Salina, Kansas. Height: 5 ft., 10 in. Weight: 173 lbs. Batted and threw righthanded. Married. Lives in Rancho Mirage, California.

On November 24, 1975, Gene Mauch was named as the seventh manager to lead the Minnesota Twins since the club began operations in the Upper Midwest in 1961, but the first to be signed to a three-year contract.

A sixteen-season veteran of managing in the National League, Mauch has returned to an area that twice proved a springboard for him in ascending to the major leagues. A fine season as shortstop for the St. Paul Saints of the old American Association in 1946 got Gene his first real chance in the majors as a player when his original parent club, the one-time Brooklyn Dodgers, traded him to Pittsburgh for the 1947 season.

Then, one day into the 1960 season, Mauch was named as manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, who gave him the opportunity because of the fine job he'd done as manager of the A.A.'s Minneapolis Millers the two previous seasons.

In between times, Gene had played big league ball with the Pirates, the Dodgers, the Cubs, the Braves and the Cardinals in the National League and the Red Sox in the American, and had begun his managerial career with Atlanta in the old class AA Southern Association in 1953.

Mauch managed the Phillies until June 16, 1968, and then took over the Montreal Expos from their inception until he was released at the conclusion of the 1975 season. In each case, he had a building job to do. The Phils had been dead last in each of the two seasons preceding Gene's arrival there. The ex-infielder did a patient reconstructing job with them, however, and was named National League 'Manager of the Year' in 1962 and again in 1964. In the latter season, his team was leading the league with a week to go but fell back to a second-place finish, one game behind St. Louis, in one of the most thrilling pennant races in major league history.

The Expos, of course, were starting from scratch, but by 1973, Mauch had them as high as fourth place and was named as major league 'Manager of the Year.' His club that season finished just 3½ games back of East Division-winning New York.

Promising that his teams would play with "intelligence and enthusiasm," Mauch stated on signing his Twins' contract that he would've sat out the 1976 season on the one-year balance of his Montreal pact had not an offer come along from a team that he felt had the personnel to be a winner. "I didn't want to get into another building situation," Gene said, "and I knew right away that the Twins were a team with a chance to win it all."

The most experienced American League manager and outdated in the majors only by Los Angeles' Walter Alston, Mauch is married to the former Nina Lee Taylor. The couple has a married daughter, Leanne. Gene is a brother-in-law of former big league shortstop Roy Smalley and the uncle of Roy Smalley, Jr., Texas infielder.

Coaches

LYONS, Edward Hoyte 'Eddie' No. 41

Born May 12, 1923, in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Height: 5 ft., 10 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Batted and threw righthanded. Married. Lives in Winston-Salem.

Back in uniform after eighteen years as a full-time scout for the St. Louis Cardinals, Eddie Lyons has rejoined the organization for which he played, although briefly, as a major leaguer. An outstanding minor league second baseman, Lyons joined the old Washington Senators for his first big league opportunity in 1946, after completing three years of service in the U. S. Navy. A knee injury that April, however, relegated him to the minors and, except for seven games at the tailend of the 1947 season, Eddie's career as a player was confined to the AA and AAA levels. He was a topflight defensive player, a pesky clutch-type hitter and a leader on the field, however, all of which led to a brief but successful stint as a minor league manager. In 1958, Lyons turned to scouting and, except for a managerial helping hand at York, Pennsylvania, in 1959, and Johnson City, Tennessee, in 1961, he devoted his energies exclusively to ivory-hunting until the coaching bid from Gene Mauch and the Twins came his way. Eddie is no stranger to Twins' personnel, having covered the Florida spring camps for the Cardinals for many years.

McMAHON, Donald John "Don" No. 42

Born January 4, 1930, in Brooklyn, N. Y. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 215 lbs. Batted and threw righthanded. Married. Lives in Garden Grove, California.

On December 9, 1975, the veteran Don McMahon joined the Twins as pitching coach, a position he'd held for the three previous seasons with the San Francisco Giants . . . even though he continued as an active relief pitcher right up until July 3, 1974, when he was 44 years old! All told, McMahon put in 24 seasons as a professional pitcher, 18 of them in the major leagues, nearly 6 of which were in the American League. Almost exclusively a reliefer . . . he started two games for Houston in 1963 . . . Don ranks fourth in big league history in pitching appearances with 874, trailing Hoyt Wilhelm (1070), Lindy McDaniel (987) and Cy Young (906). Originally signed by the old Boston Braves, McMahon has seen service in three World Series, one Championship Series and, although he didn't get in the game, was on the National League All-Star Team in 1958. Don was involved in four player-trades during his career. The first of them, curiously, saw him traded with his predecessor as Twins' pitching coach, Lee Stange, from Cleveland to Boston, June 2, 1966, in exchange for reliefer Dick Radatz. McMahon is the tenth pitching coach to be employed by the Twins over the years.

ZIMMERMAN, Gerald Robert 'Zim' No. 43

Born September 21, 1934, in Omaha, Nebraska. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Batted and threw righthanded. Married. Lives in Milwaukie, Oregon.

Back with the Twins, for whom he spent the bulk of his career as a major league player, popular Jerry Zimmerman now serves the club as bullpen coach. Zimmerman, in fact, served one of his seven seasons with the Twins, 1967, as the only player-coach the team has ever had. He left the Twins on March 18, 1969, when the opportunity to join Gene Mauch's coaching staff with the fledgling Montreal Expos was presented to him. Jerry served the Expos as bullpen boss throughout Mauch's seven - year tenure there. After signing a large bonus contract with the Boston Red Sox organization in 1952, Zimmerman embarked on a playing career that brought him into two World Series. He also played on pennant-winning minor league clubs in the California League in 1953 and the P-O-NY League in 1954. Zimmy was the league's top fielding catcher in each of those seasons (.983 and .989), as well as in the Eastern League (.992) in 1956 and the American League (.997) in 1965. He had a season and a half of minor league exposure here with the old Minneapolis Millers in 1958 and '59, playing under Mauch. Married, with five children, Zimmerman is in the insurance business in the off-season.

ALBURY, Victor "Vic" P No. 20

Born May 12, 1947, in Key West, Florida. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married. Lives in Key West.

Lefty Vic Albury divided his time between the bullpen and the starting staff in 1975, but it was relief pitching that seemed to bring out the best in him. In 17 relief outings, he was 3-0, with a save, and posted a 3.00 ERA in 60 innings. A fastball pitcher primarily, Albury has the stuff to step in as a regular major league starter. His hits-per-inning ratio has been excellent in each of his two full big league campaigns, but the base-on-balls has been his nemesis. The Caribbean native pitched last winter for the Bayamon team of the Puerto Rican League, winning 4, losing 2, and recording an ERA of 2.05. Vic is a member of 1965's class of original free-agent draftees, having been selected in the 21st round by the Cleveland Indians as a first baseman-pitcher.

AUSMAN, Paul David P No. 27

Born August 24, 1955, in Eau Claire, Wisconsin. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 165 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Single. Lives in Eau Claire.

A 1973 graduate of Eau Claire's Regis High School, southpaw Paul Ausman has enjoyed two fine seasons as a Twins' farmhand after drawing his release from the Milwaukee organization in December of 1973. He had been selected by the Brewers in the fourteenth round of the free-agent draft the previous June. Last season, Ausman made the California League All-Star Team as he led the loop in saves to help spark the Reno club to the championship of each half of the split season. A reliefer, Paul has made just one start in his professional career, but that was a shutout in the Midwest League in 1974!

BANE, Edward Norman 'Eddie' P No. 16

Born March 22, 1952, in Great Lakes, Illinois. Height: 5 ft., 10 in. Weight: 171 lbs. Bats right, throws left. Married. Lives in Scottsdale, Arizona.

Last September 2, lefthander Eddie Bane was recalled by the Minnesota Twins from what could well have been his last sojourn to the minor leagues. Bane led Pacific Coast League hurlers with 31 starts and was just one shy of the league-lead in victories to earn All-Star recognition for Tacoma. Then, in four September starts for the Twins, Eddie pitched extremely well, his only loss coming as a direct result of his own back-to-back fielding miscues. A stocky curveballer who relies on excellent control, Bane came into the pros after a sensational collegiate career at Arizona State. He holds the all-time NCAA career record of 535 strikeouts and his name absolutely dominates the archives of Arizona State baseball. Eddie pitched the only perfect game ever by a Sun Devil hurler when he stopped Cal State at Northridge, 9-0, March 2, 1973. The Twins' no. 1 pick in the June draft of 1973, Bane has the distinction of being the only player selected by the Twins in the eleven-year history of the free-agent draft system to be placed directly on the major league roster upon signing his contract. Last winter for the first time, Eddie tried his hand at winter ball, pitching for the Zulia club of the Venezuelan League.

BASS, Randy William IB No. 36

Born March 13, 1954, in Lawton, Oklahoma. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 206 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Single. Lives in Lawton.

Slugger Randy Bass has made patient, steady, noticeable progress during his four seasons in the minor leagues, moving from the rookie league ranks to Triple-A during that period in a 'one step at a time' type of development. The next step is the major leagues, and Bass was making big league noise with his bat over the last half of the 1975 Pacific Coast League season to indicate that 1976 could be the point where the 'development' stops and the 'career' begins. Randy's first spring training with the parent Twins came in 1975, and he impressed all observers as a star of the future, batting .368 over 14 exhibition games. He made an impression also on PCL hurlers during the regular season following, and they showed their respect by plunking him a league-leading 8 times. During the off-season, Bass was the second-leading home-run hitter in the Mexican Pacific Winter League, belting 11 for Los Mochis. Strong as a bull, Randy has worked as a lumberjack when not pursuing his baseball career.

BLYLEVEN, Rik Aalbert 'Bert' P No. 28

Born April 6, 1951, in Zeist, Holland. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Irvine, California.

Considered by many to have the finest curveball in the game, and also blessed with a hard-riding fastball, Bert Blyleven just might be ready in 1976 to capitalize on his awesome potential as a major league pitching star. Last season, a siege of arm trouble during the month of June caused him to miss four starts but he came back strongly to post the best won-lost percentage (.600) of his six-year career. For the third straight season, Blyleven finished second in the American League strikeout race. On five occasions, he fanned 10 or more batters to give him a total of 30 such games for his career. Bert also established a new Twins' career record for shutouts, getting three in '75 to give him 24 lifetime, one more than the previous club high held by Jim Kaat . . . although the Griffith organization and major league record is Walter Johnson's 113. All told during the season, Blyleven had six games in which he allowed 4 or less hits. Going into 1976, the big righthander is just five victories short of joining the '100-Victory Club.' His third win of the season will tie him with Alvin Crowder for eighth place among all pitchers for the Griffith organization over the years. Bert could move into fifth place on that list during the season, in fact, as Case Patten is just nine ahead of him at 104, Tom Zachary turned in 111 wins for the Griffs and Dutch Leonard accounted for 116.

BORGMANN, Glenn Dennis — C — No. 14

Born May 25, 1950, in Paterson, New Jersey. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 210 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Paterson.

After two full seasons as the Twins' regular catcher, big Glenn Borgmann has earned many plaudits for his work with the mask and mitt and has gained a reputation as possibly the best in the business in the art of blocking low pitches . . . as attested by his low total among American League regular catchers of just two passed balls in 1975. Careerwise, he's allowed just 11 passed balls in 321 games. In throwing out 40% of the runners who attempted to steal on his pitchers last year, Borgmann also demonstrated one of the strongest throwing arms in the major league receiving corps. In fact, in the four seasons in which he's put in full or part time with the Twins, Glenn has tossed out 105 of the 285 runners who've challenged him, a percentage of .368.

BOSTOCK, Lyman Wesley, Jr. — OF — No. 10

Born November 22, 1950, in Birmingham, Alabama. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Married. Lives in Inglewood, California.

Although plagued by injury over much of the first half of the season, Lyman Bostock enjoyed a fine rookie season in 1975. The speedy outfielder got off to a great start in '75 spring training, batting .342 in 16 games, but in making a catch of a flyball in West Palm Beach on March 18, he suffered a fractured finger and thus missed most of the remainder of the spring training period. Then, after a slow start in the regular season, Bostock was just coming into high gear when he ran into the wall in Oakland in making a sensational catch on Campy Campaneris, April 20. He came out of that one with a chipped right ankle and, after a period on the disabled list, was sent down to Tacoma on June 4 to play himself back into shape. Lyman tore the Pacific Coast League apart in his three weeks before rejoining the Twins as a regular on June 27. His batting average climbed steadily from that point, reaching its peak of .284 in the final week of the season. His best day was a 4-hit effort that helped beat Kansas City, July 28. Bostock comes by his baseball talents naturally, as his father was a star player in the old Negro leagues. During the recent off-season, Lyman played for Aragua, in the Venezuelan Winter League, where he was in the thick of the league batting race at .353 until he re-injured his ankle and was obliged to return to the States on December 15.

BRAUN, Stephen Russell, III 'Tooter' OF-3B No. 2

Born May 8, 1948, in Trenton, New Jersey. Height: 5 ft., 10 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Married. Lives in Yardley, Pennsylvania.

Enjoying his best season to date, Steve Braun attained the .300-level in 1975 for the first time, coming in eleventh in the American League batting chase. And in doing so, he maintained his penchant for consistency as, just as in the three previous seasons, his average never dipped below .275 after the first few games of the campaign. In playing the most games of his career in a season, Braun once again proved himself to be maneuverable defensively, playing four different positions . . . a trick he previously turned in both 1971 and 1972. Steve started the season as the Twins' first baseman, in fact, before returning to his more familiar station in leftfield on May 2. Along the way, he also proved to be the team's most productive pinch-hitter, getting six hits, including a homer, in twelve pinch-tries. Always the recipient of a good number of bases-on-balls, Braun's 'on-base-average' was a solid .388 in '75, second on the club to American League leader Rod Carew's .417.

BRYE, Stephen Robert 'Steve' OF No. 11

Born February 4, 1949, in Alameda, California. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 188 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Bloomington, Minnesota.

Headed for possibly his finest big league season, Twin Steve Brye was derailed by a Nolan Ryan fastball last July 3. He suffered a broken left hand in the mishap and was out of action, except for pinch-running efforts, until September 7. On that day in Chicago, Brye returned as a 7th-inning pinch-hitter and belted the first inside-the-park homerun of his career. The next inning, he batted again and unloaded another homer, this one deep into the leftfield seats! Always effective in pinch-hitting roles, Steve batted .500 in ten pinch-trips in '75, and has a .379 career average as a pinch-hitter. As a starting player, Brye has four 4-hit games in his career, the latest coming in Baltimore on May 10, 1975. Steve is a Californian and his wife, Debbie, is from Michigan, but the couple has made the Twin Cities their year-round home.

BURGMEIER, Thomas Henry "Tom" P No. 19

Born August 2, 1943, in St. Paul, Minnesota. Height: 5 ft., 11 in. Weight: 180 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married. Lives in Lenexa, Kansas.

Only in 1971 did Tom Burgmeier have a better big league season than he had in 1975. The eight-year veteran led the club in saves, placing eighth in the league, and was the team's most dependable bullpenner throughout. Gifted athletically, the lefthanded Burgmeier is almost certainly the best fielding pitcher in the game and provides the Twins with a fifth infielder any time he's on the mound. He did, in fact, play an American League game in the outfield in both 1968 and 1969. In challenging the hitters, Tom relies mainly on a good sinking fastball but can also mix 'em up with a slider, a big league curve and an effective change-of-pace pitch. As a senior in high school in 1961, Burgmeier pitched St. Cloud Cathedral to the Minnesota State Catholic Championship.

BUTLER, William Franklin "Bill" P No. 17

Born March 12, 1947, in Hyattsville, Maryland. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 210 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married. Lives in Stephens City, Virginia.

Hefty Bill Butler didn't win his first game in 1975 until August 2, but he was 5-1 from that point to prove that steady work can, indeed, bring out the best in his strong left arm. Although three of those wins were in starting roles, Butler's most impressive effort came in a relief job at Milwaukee, August 25. He pitched six strong finishing innings in that one on a yield of just two hits to beat the Brewers, 6-3. Bill's strength is his fastball . . . and it's a good one. Hampered on and off by arm trouble since being named to Topps Chewing Gum's Major League All-Rookie Team in 1969, Butler just last year came up to four-year pension status. After his two injury-free seasons with the Twins, it would appear that Bill can count on accumulating a good deal more time in the plan which is hailed as a model among retirement programs.

CAMPBELL, William Richard "Bill" P No. 24

Born August 9, 1948, in Highland Park, Michigan. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in San Diego, California.

The Twins' most frequently used pitcher in 1975, tall Bill Campbell stepped in to help out the club's starting corps and pitched well in his seven assignments, including his first big league shutout, an 8-0, 5-hitter over Texas, July 4. It was after his last start on August 3, however, when he returned to the bullpen that he did his most effective pitching of the season. In thirteen relief jobs from that point, Campbell allowed just two earned runs for an ERA of 0.78. Anxious for more opportunity as a starter, though, Bill joined the Aragua club of the Venezuelan Winter League last fall and became the talk of the league as he didn't allow a run in his first four starts and 37.1 innings-pitched! Campbell, who relies primarily on a sinking fastball and a good screwball, was shelved for virtually four weeks during 1975 spring training as the aftermath of having fired 'mid-season stuff' at the Detroit Tigers in his first exhibition outing.

CAREW, Rodney Cline 'Junior' 1B-2B No. 29

Born October 1, 1945, in Gatun, Panama Canal Zone. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 182 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Married. Lives in Golden Valley, Minnesota.

Ty Cobb, Rogers Hornsby, Honus Wagner . . . that's the select company Rod Carew finds himself in after his stellar 1975 season in which he captured his fourth straight American League batting title and fifth overall. Those four are the only players ever to win that many consecutive batting championships and they're joined by Stan Musial and Ted Williams in the exclusive company of batters with five or more crowns to their credit. In upping his major league-leading career batting average to .328, Carew became the first big leaguer since Joe DiMaggio (1939-40-41) to bat .350 or better three years in a row. Voted the starting second baseman in the All-Star Game for the American League in each of his nine seasons in the league, Rod volunteered to try his hand at first base last September 12, and made his last 14 starts of the season at that spot. A ten-year man at the end of the 1976 season, Carew was named captain of the Twins last July 25. He was also named the team's 'Most Valuable Player' for the fourth straight season in a post-season vote of the Twin Cities baseball writers, and then capped his season with the highest honor the American League bestows annually . . . the Joe Cronin Award. This award is presented for significant achievement in baseball and Rod's two predecessors for the honor are Al Kaline and Nolan Ryan. Carew had three 4-hit games in 1975 to give him 27 for his career and a tie with Tony Oliva for the team leadership. Rod's .448-average last April was the highest he's ever enjoyed for a single month, and his .595-figure vs. New York in '75 is-a Twins' record for a player against an individual team. Twice during the season, Carew tied the club record of three stolen bases in a game and, on May 14, he stole home for the 13th time in his career. Rod has also been the league's leader in 'on-base-average' the past two years, topping the field with .417 in 1975 . . . a season in which he also led the majors with 18 intentional walks.

CORBIN, Alton Ray 'Ray' P No. 23

Born February 12, 1949, in Suwannee County, Florida. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Eagan, Minnesota.

Bothered all season by an ailing elbow, righthander Ray Corbin underwent surgery on August 12, 1975, for removal of bone spurs and chips. After exercising diligently and engaging in light throwing over the winter, Corbin's hopes are high for a return to his old-time, hard-throwing form. Ray has been effective as either a starter or a reliefer over his five-year career with the Twins and provides the kind of versatility manager Gene Mauch must have on his staff if his club is to be a contender. Corbin's money pitch is a sinking fastball, but he also has good command of his slider and his change. The native Floridian is now a full-time Minnesotan, working out of the Twin Cities sales office of the Hormel Co. during the winter months.

COX, Larry Eugene C No. 37

Born September 11, 1947, in Bluffton, Ohio. Height: 5 ft., 11 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives in Lima, Ohio.

An October 24, 1975, acquisition, catcher Larry Cox came over to the Twins from Philadelphia in a swap for shortstop Sergio Ferrer. A ten-year professional, Cox has been a catcher most of that time, but for a couple of seasons early in his career he took a shot at making pitching his avocation. He went back to catching in 1969, however, and from that point made his rise to the majors on the strength of outstanding defensive ability. Larry originally signed as a free agent with the Phils on February 8, 1966.

DECKER, George Henry, Jr. 'Joe' P No. 21

Born June 16, 1947, in Storm Lake, Iowa. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Eagan, Minnesota.

Felled by a serious virus on April 23, 1975, swift Joe Decker was out of action until June 6. It was spring training all over again for the likeable righthander, consequently, as he tried to make up for ground lost during his incapacitation. Since the pennant race was in full swing at that point, however, it just wasn't possible for Decker to get in the work necessary for him to gain command of the strike zone. As a result, 1975 goes into the books as a 'lost' season for Joe, who tried to 'find it' once again with a post-season stint in the Venezuelan Winter League. Not satisfied with his progress there, he returned to the States and worked-out in Arizona under the tutelage of his old Chicago Cubs' mentor, Fred Martin. After a couple of weeks of patient throwing, Decker's confidence returned and he found himself back in the groove that made him a 16-game winner for the Twins in 1974.

FORD, Darnell Glenn, Sr. 'Dan' OF No. 15

Born May 19, 1952, in Los Angeles, California. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Los Angeles.

The Twins' most pleasant development of 1975, speedy Dan Ford joined Boston's Fred Lynn and Jim Rice as the outfielders on Topps' Major League Rookie All-Star Team at season's end. Relatively unheralded in spring training, Ford got his chance to break into the lineup when centerfielder Lyman Bostock broke a finger in a game at West Palm Beach on March 18. The slim Californian capitalized on the opportunity, batting .309 in exhibition play and winning a spot on the roster. It wasn't until June 7 that he moved into the regular-season starting lineup, however, but when he did there was no displacing him. Dan batted .290 the rest of the way, playing primarily in centerfield, and led the club in homeruns. He had four singles in a game in Detroit on August 8, but Ford was really a 'Yankee Doodle Dandy' on the Fourth of July when he belted three homeruns and a double in a twin-bill against Texas. On July 1, vs. California, Dan tied the team record by scoring four times. The Twin Cities Baseball Writers Chapter cited his accomplishments in their post-season poll when they named Ford as the club's 'Rookie of the Year.' Originally an Oakland farmhand, Dan was Topps 'Player of the Month' in the Midwest League in July, 1972.

GOLTZ, David Allan 'Dave' P No. 30

Born June 23, 1949, in Pelican Rapids, Minnesota. Height: 6 ft., 4 in. Weight: 210 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Eagan, Minnesota.

Named as 'Upper Midwest Player of the Year' by the Twin Cities baseball writers for his accomplishments in 1975, sturdy Dave Goltz can look back on the year as one that afforded him many moments of justifiable pride . . . not the least of which was the birth of his first child, Darren David, on October 10. Teaming with Bert Blyleven and Jim Hughes to give the Twins a consistent, one-two-three pitching punch, Goltz was in the rotation from start to finish and, in one stretch in August, reeled off five straight victories. Dave's main pitch is his sinker, but he has a repertoire of top-flight pitches which includes a slider, a change and a knuckle-curve. A nine-year pro, Goltz will become a vested member of the Players' Pension Fund on July 30.

GOMEZ, Luis 'Looey' SS No. 25

Born August 19, 1951, in Guadalajara, Mexico. Height: 5 ft., 9 in. Weight: 150 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Los Angeles, California.

As good as they come at shortstop, and a mighty fine second baseman as well, spunky Luis Gomez has afforded the Twins excellent infield insurance over the past couple of seasons. Equipped with an amazing pair of hands, Gomez' deceptive appearance belies another of his physical assets, a strong, accurate throwing arm. Born 'south of the border,' Luis journeyed back there last winter to perform his shortstopping 'magic' for the Navajoa club of the Mexican Pacific League.

Born January 7, 1952, in Latrobe, Pennsylvania. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 213 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Calumet, Pennsylvania.

With 110 minor league homeruns and a strong 1975 second-half to his credit, powerful Bob Gorinski appears ready to stake a claim on a job in the major leagues. The strong-armed outfielder was having trouble getting untracked in the Pacific Coast League last summer and his option was transferred to the American Association's Denver club on July 28. The change was evidently the tonic needed to bring out the best in him as Gorinski tore A.A. pitching apart over the balance of the season with a slugging-percentage of .579. This coupled with his impressive power figures at Tacoma gave him a season-long slugmark of .447. In 1974, Bob was named as one of the outfielders on Topps Chewing Gum's Class AA All-Star squad for his fine play in the Southern League. He won his third homerun crown that year.

HISLE, Larry Eugene — OF — No. 9

Born May 5, 1947, in Portsmouth, Ohio. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Portsmouth.

Off and running toward the best year of his career and an almost certain All-Star berth, popular Larry Hisle was forced out of action after June 17, 1975, when a troublesome bone spur in his right elbow flared up painfully and eventually required surgery on July 24. He returned in time to see some action in September but 'what might've been' became 'wait till next year!' Hisle was leading the team in homeruns, total bases, rbi and stolen bases at the time he was obliged to leave the lineup and his absence left a void that hurt the Twins' pennant chances considerably, since the club was in third place just six games back at that point. Larry came to the Twins in a trade with St. Louis (with lefty John Cumberland for reliefer Wayne Granger), November 29, 1972, but he came into baseball as a member of the Philadelphia organization. The Phils, in fact, made him their second choice in the free-agent draft of June 8-9, 1965, after he'd earned scholastic All-America honors in baseball and basketball during his high school career in Portsmouth, Ohio, where he was a teammate of Pittsburgh's Al Oliver. Hisle is one of five 1975 Twins who were selected by various clubs in that historic, first-ever draft meeting, the others being Vic Albury, Bill Butler, Joe Decker and Danny Thompson.

HUGHES, James Michael 'Jim' P No. 31

Born July 2, 1951, in Los Angeles, California. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in Los Angeles.

The winningest rookie in the majors and voted 'Most Valuable' on the Twins' pitching staff by the Twin Cities baseball writers, Jim Hughes electrified the American League with a phenomenal month of May, 1975, and then went on to establish himself as one of the finest young hurlers to come into the majors in several years. Starting with a brilliant 7-inning relief outing vs. Kansas City on May 4, Hughes won six straight games that month, the last five of them complete games. He allowed just five earned runs in 52 innings in that stretch for an ERA of 0.87, and was deservedly named as the league's 'Player of the Month.' Armed with a great fastball, it was Jim's palmball that stirred excitement around the league, however, as he consistently fanned key batters in tough situations by keeping this unique change-of-pace pitch in the strike zone. The team's leading winner in '75, Hughes is a product of the rapidly-growing school of scout Jess Flores' discoveries, of whom there are nine currently on the Twins' roster.

JOHNSON, Thomas Raymond 'Tom' P No. 32

Born April 2, 1951, in St. Paul, Minnesota. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in St. Paul.

Although Twin Citian Tom Johnson was called up by the Twins last July 5, he had racked up so many saves for the Tacoma Twins by that time that he was named to the Pacific Coast League's West Division All-Star Team and wound up as that circuit's co-leader in saves for 1975! In fact, from the point of Johnson's arrival, only lefthander Tom Burgmeier totalled more saves for the big league Twins. A full-time reliefer for just the last three seasons, Tom's major league potential was probably best illustrated in his last game of 1975, when he stopped the Kansas City Royals cold for four innings, September 25, to preserve a win for Bill Butler. During the winter months, the slender righthander turned in a stint with the Aragua club of the Venezuelan League. Johnson, who has earned several credits at the University of Minnesota, grew up in the shadow of St. Paul's Bethel College. His wife Debbie, in fact, was a coed at Bethel when the couple met.

KUSICK, Craig Robert — 1B No. 22

Born September 30, 1948, in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 232 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Beaver Dam, Wisconsin.

After a slow start last spring, brawny Craig Kusick spent a couple of months regaining his batting eye in the Pacific Coast League and then returned to the Twins to bat .269 over the final several weeks of the American League season. The determined first baseman has a world of power and the potential to be the long-ball hitter needed to round out the Twins' starting lineup. Batting .333 as a pinch-hitter last year, Kusick's most memorable moment in that role came on September 16, when his last of the 9th, 3-run homer beat California, 4-3. Another moment that will stand out in Craig's memory came on August 27, when he tied a major league record by being hit by a pitch three times in a game at Milwaukee. The big fellow holds a BS degree in Physical Education from Wisconsin State College in LaCrosse, where he starred in baseball, football and track.

LERNER, Lewis 'Lew' — P No. 33

Born October 31, 1950, in Los Angeles, California. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in Panorama City, California.

The Twins' first choice in the regular phase of the January 12, 1972, free-agent selections, righthander Lew Lerner turned to full-time relief in 1975 and, in so doing, greatly accelerated his progress toward the major leagues. A product of Cal State at Northridge with a BA in Journalism, Lerner's development was steady but unspectacular until he blossomed in the Southern League last spring. Lew led that loop in saves for the year even though he was advanced to the Pacific Coast League on July 5! His work for Tacoma was equally impressive and he was placed on the major league roster at season's end. An All-Star in the Western Carolinas League in 1972 and co-winner of the league's 'Most Valuable Pitcher' award, Lerner led the league in strikeouts and finished second in the ERA race. He was named by Topps as the league's 'Player of the Month' for July, that year. In 1970, Lew pitched his school to the NCAA College Division National Championship. He was 12-2 and was named to the College Division All-America Team.

LUEBBER, Stephen Lee 'Steve' P No. 34

Born July 9, 1949, in Clinton, Missouri. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Joplin, Missouri.

A Twin in 1971-72, righthander Steve Luebber returns to the club as the pitching champion of the Pacific Coast League for 1975. Hampered by shoulder trouble in 1973, Luebber rebounded strongly the next season and, after a month of Southern League play last year, moved up to Tacoma and walked off with PCL honors in ERA, complete games (15) and shutouts (3). A tireless worker, Steve led the Florida State League in starts (30), innings-pitched and strikeouts in 1970, and then repeated in those categories, plus shutouts (5), in the Coast League in 1972. In between, he led Southern League pitchers with a perfect 1.000 fielding-percentage in 1971. Luebber, signed by scout Bill Messmann as the Twins' 32nd choice in the regular-phase free-agent draft meeting of June 7, 1967, was an All-Star selection in the New York-Pennsylvania League in 1968, and in the Florida loop in 1970. He led the NY-P in shutouts (3) and won-lost percentage (.800). Last season, a broken-bat blooper in the 8th inning deprived Steve of a no-hitter in Salt Lake City, July 11. During the recent off-season, Luebber was one of the big winners in Venezuelan Winter League action, pitching for the Portuguesa club.

DICK MARTIN

Richard Dudley 'Dick' Martin has been serving as trainer with the Twins since 1972. He worked a season as assistant to the late George Lentz and then took over as head trainer on Lentz' retirement at the conclusion of the 1973 spring training season. Martin is a native of Lynchburg, Virginia, where he received a BA degree in Political Science and Physical Education from Lynchburg College. Dick served the 1971 season as trainer of the Twins' class A Carolina League farm at Lynchburg, and then attended graduate school in athletic training at Indiana University. Martin was a cross-country letterman at Lynchburg College, while also working as a student trainer for all the school's athletic teams. Dick was born on July 8, 1949. He's 6 ft., 175 lbs., and makes his home in the Twin Cities suburb of Burnsville with his bride, the former Diane Gerber of Melbourne, Florida. The couple was blessed with their first child, Laura Beth, on October 18, 1974.

MALOOF, Jack Garth — OF-1B — No. 38

Born October 12, 1949, in Redlands, California. Height: 5 ft., 11 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married. Lives in San Dimas, California.

The only player to hit .400 in American professional baseball since Tony Oliva batted .410 for Wytheville of the Appalachian League in 1961, hustling Jack Maloof placed second in the Southern League's batting race in 1975. With his league-leading 105 walks, though, Maloof ran away from the field with a .468 'on-base-average.' A four-year letterman in baseball and football at California's LaVerne College, Jack exploded onto the professional scene in 1971 when he led the nation in batting. He was named to the New York-Pennsylvania League's All-Star squad, was the circuit's 'Rookie of the Year,' and was cited as Topps Chewing Gum's 'Player of the Year' for that league, as well as being designated as one of the outfielders on Topps' Class A All-Star Team. Maloof has been recognized as a Topps 'Player of the Month' three times . . . in July, 1971; June, 1972; and July, 1975. An All-Star in the Southern League the past two years, Jack led that league in walks each of those seasons and also drew the most free tickets in the Carolina League in 1972. His 8 sacrifice flies were the Southern's top figure in 1974, and he led the New York-Pennsylvania circuit in hits and runs in 1971. An outfielder when he broke into the pros, but now operating primarily around first base, Maloof was signed by scout Jess Flores after he was selected as the Twins' 27th choice in the June 8, 1971, draft selections.

MANEELY, Robert James III "Bob" — P — No. 35

Born September 18, 1951, in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Orlando, Florida.

The Southern League's 'Pitcher of the Year' in 1975, big Bob Maneely is fully recovered from August, 1973, surgery to repair a torn rotator cuff muscle in his right shoulder. Maneely, the starting pitcher for the victorious East squad in the Southern's All-Star Game last July 24, tied for the league-lead in wins and shutouts (4) and tossed a one-hitter at Columbus in a 1-0 decision, July 2. After passing up a basketball opportunity at Wake Forest University, Bob signed with the Chicago Cubs and started off by leading the Pioneer League in starting assignments (15) in 1970. His 3 shutouts equalled the best in the Midwest League in 1972. On November 30, 1972, Maneely was traded to the Twins with pitchers Joe Decker and Bill Hands for reliefer Dave LaRoche. As a three-year-old, Bob lost the ring finger of his right hand in an escalator accident in a department store.

McKAY, David Lawrence 'Dave' 3B-SS No. 7

Born March 14, 1950, in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Vancouver.

An injury to Eric Soderholm gave Dave McKay his big league opportunity last season and the sturdy third baseman didn't have to be told twice about the value of first impressions. In the 3rd inning of the August 22 game at the Met, McKay hit a homerun off Detroit's Vern Ruhle and thus became the 43rd player in major league history, 20th in the American League, to hit a homer on his first trip to the plate in the bigs. Another third baseman, Rick Renick, on July 11, 1968, is the only other Twin to accomplish the feat and, curiously, Renick, a player-coach with Tacoma, joked with McKay prior to his leaving the Pacific Coast League team about the possibility of Dave's joining Rick in the exclusive club. McKay didn't stop there, though, as he hit safely in his first five games and in 21 of his first 22 Twins' games! His 16-game streak was the longest of the season by a Twin. Prior to joining the Twins, Dave was named as shortstop for the PCL's West Division All-Star squad. The second Canadian native to play for the Twins . . . pitcher Georges Maranda, 1962, was the other . . . McKay's versatility as an infielder stands him in good stead in the Twins' scheme of things. Signed as a free agent out of Creighton University, Dave also studied for a time at Columbia Basin Junior College in Pasco, Washington.

OLIVA, Pedro, Jr. 'Tony' DH No. 6

Born July 20, 1941, in Pinar del Rio, Cuba. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Married. Lives in Bloomington, Minnesota.

The Twins' designated hitter since the rule was enacted in 1973, Tony Oliva is possibly the most experienced and respected exponent of the art of hitting in the game today. A three-time batting champion, Oliva has been operating under the handicap of a game right knee for the past several seasons, with his most serious trouble dating from June 29, 1971, when he was injured while attempting a diving catch of a fly ball in Oakland. All told, Tony has had seven operations on the knee, the last two taking place last fall. On October 3, the operation involved the removal of bone spurs and the irrigation of cartilagenous fragments. Then, when infection set in, Oliva again went under the knife on October 14 to eliminate the condition. With an eye toward getting the knee back to maximum strength for 1976, Tony-O left his Minnesota home to begin conditioning drills in Florida on January 13. Oliva is sixth in career batting among those active players with at least three full seasons in the majors. Ahead of him are Rod Carew (.328), Ralph Garr (.317), Pete Rose (.310), Rico Carty (.308) and Henry Aaron (.307). Tony is the Twins' all-time leader in basehits, singles and doubles. In 1975, he led the club with 13 'game-winning hits' and, possibly due to his knee, he tied with Baltimore's Don Baylor for the major league lead in times hit by a pitch, 13. Tony batted .500 as a pinch-hitter for the Twins last season and, over his career dating back to 1962, he has a 25-for-62, .403, pinch-hitting record. On October 13, 1975, an occasion cherished above all others occurred when Ricardo Roberto arrived as the third child and second son in the Oliva household.

PAZIK, Michael Joseph 'Mike' P No. 40

Born January 26, 1950, in Lynn, Massachusetts. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 197 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married. Lives in Lynn.

Trimmed by the Twins in the last squad cut at the end of 1975 spring training, and similarly dispatched by the New York Yankees in the couple of springs preceding, lefty Mike Pazik was recalled by the Griffs for his first taste of big league activity on April 23. He was returned to the Pacific Coast League on June 16, however, when it was determined that he would profit by the experience of working in a regular rotation. As a result, Pazik made a fourth consecutive strong showing in AAA ball and wound up as the PCL's co-leader in shutouts (3). He also placed fifth in the league's ERA derby. A good fielder, Mike has been guilty of just five errors in his five-year professional career. A fastballer, Pazik also has good command of a curve, a slider and a change. In 1970, Mike pitched for the Pierre Cowboys in South Dakota's semi-pro Basin League.

ROOF, Phillip Anthony 'Phil' C No. 8

Born March 5, 1941, in Paducah, Kentucky. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 214 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Paducah.

Coming off the best season of his career, veteran catcher Phil Roof is established as one of the top technicians of his trade. Last year, Roof tossed out 18 of the 49 runners who tried to steal on his pitchers and, over his five seasons as a Twin, he's nailed 57 of 163, an excellent 35% success ratio. Equipped with good power as a hitter, Phil scaled the .300-heights in average in 1975 for the first time in his professional career. In his better than eleven full seasons in the majors, Roof has been involved in five trades, the latest bringing him to the Twins from Milwaukee on July 8, 1971, in exchange for catcher Paul Ratliff.

SODERHOLM, Eric Thane — 3B No. 12

Born September 24, 1948, in Cortland, New York. Height: 5 ft., 11 in. Weight: 187 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Burnsville, Minnesota.

Last August 20, what was becoming a banner season for Eric Soderholm came to an abrupt end when he accidentally fell into a makeshift manhole at a construction site near a lot he had purchased in contemplation of building a new home for his family. Soderholm fractured two ribs in the mishap and was put out of action for the season. At the time, Eric was on a hot streak that had seen him raise his batting average 34 points over his previous 39 games, batting at a .349-clip during that stretch. He got 7 of his homeruns and 28 of his rbi in that period, also, and appeared on the way to posting his first big league .300-average. Included in the hot streak was the second 4-hit game of Soderholm's career. It was vs. Cleveland, August 17, and was also his third 2-homer game, with the 10 total bases a Twins' high for the season. Eric also sparkled afield for the Twins in '75, setting a new club fielding record for third basemen of .969, which exceeded the .963-mark turned in by Rich Rollins in 1967. During his incapacitation, Soderholm had cartilage damage in his left knee, which had bothered him throughout the season, repaired in surgery, September 8. Curiously, he and his brother Dale, a Twins' shortstop prospect who played on option at Richmond in 1975 went under the knife in the same hospital . . . St. Mary's in Minneapolis . . . on the same day. Dale had a foot problem corrected. A Twin for all or part of each of the past five seasons, Eric assumes major league pension status this year on June 20.

TERRELL, Jerry Wayne — 2B-SS — No. 1

Born July 13, 1946, in Waseca, Minnesota. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats both, throws right. Married. Lives in Simi Valley, California.

Relegated to the minors in a surprise development at the conclusion of the 1975 spring training period, spunky Jerry Terrell proved his mettle in a two-month Pacific Coast League stint and then was returned to the Twins on June 6. With Tacoma, Terrell batted safely in the first 24 games of the season. That, coupled with a 4-game streak at the end of his last sojourn there in 1972, gave Jerry a 28-game skein, which bettered by two the all-time Tacoma record set by outfielder Rex Johnston in 1965. Terrell kept up the pace after re-joining the Twins, maintaining a .300-average through games of September 12. His peak effort was the fourth 4-hit game of his career, that coming against Kansas City, July 28. Extremely versatile, Jerry played all four infield positions and rightfield for the Twins last year, besides taking a turn or two as designated hitter, pinch-hitter and pinch-runner! This year, in view of the contemplated shift of Rod Carew to first base, Terrell figures to see regular action at what appears to be his best position, second base. To make the most of the opportunity, Jerry spent the off-season with the Zulia team of the Venezuelan Winter League.

THOMPSON, Danny Leon — SS No. 5

Born February 1, 1947, in Wichita, Kansas. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Burlington, Oklahoma.

After a couple of seasons on the comeback trail, a determined Danny Thompson got his game together again in 1975. Only Texas' Toby Harrah outhit Thompson among regular American League shortstops as Danny maintained a consistent batting performance throughout the season. Although not a power-hitter, Thompson has great bat control and has gained a reputation after six seasons in the majors as a tough man in the clutch. A star athlete ever since his prep days in Capron, Oklahoma, Danny was the Twins' first choice in the secondary-phase draft of June 7, 1968. He was available in that draft because he had turned down an offer from the New York Yankees, who had made him their second choice in the original free-agent draft meeting of June 8, 1965.

WILEY, Mark Eugene 'Coyote' — P No. 18

Born February 28, 1948, in National City, California. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Charlotte, North Carolina.

A curveballer who was making a runaway of Pacific Coast League pitching honors, Mark Wiley was recalled from Tacoma by the Twins last June 16. He got his first taste of big league action the following night in a relief stint against Oakland, and he was used primarily as a reliefer for the rest of the season. Wiley's top moment of the season came as a starter, however, when he went the route to down California, 12-3, July 1. Recipient of a BS in Physical Education from Cal Poly in Pomona, Mark abandoned his studies last winter to pitch for the Magallanes Indians of the Venezuelan Winter League. Wiley's professional career got off to an auspicious start in 1970 when he was named as Topps Chewing Gum's 'Player of the Month' for August in the New York-Pennsylvania League; then was cited by Topps as 'Player of the Year' for that circuit; and finally was named as first winner of the 'Sherry Robertson Award,' which is presented to the top Twins' farm system player each year.

WILFONG, Robert Donald 'Rob' 2B No. 48

Born September 1, 1953, in Pasadena, California. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 160 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Married. Lives in Covina, California.

The Twins' 13th draft-choice in June, 1971, second baseman Rob Wilfong waited until that September 15 to sign his contract in order that he might complete an American Legion season that saw his West Covina, California, Post No. 790 team go on to the National Championship. That was Wilfong's second share of national honors. He was a member of the 1970 Colt League World Championship team. A smooth fielder and adept double-play man, Rob was the winner of the 1974 Rawlings-The Sporting News 'Silver Glove Award' as the top-fielding (.986) second baseman in minor league baseball. Last season, he was an All-Star selection in the Southern League where, curiously, he had the same batting record in both 1974 and '75. In the off-season, Wilfong has logged some credit hours at Mount San Antonio Junior College in Walnut, California.

WOODS, Alvis 'Babe' OF No. 46

Born August 8, 1953, in Oakland, California. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Single. Lives in Oakland.

A product of the same Oakland high school that spawned Twin Steve Brye, St. Elizabeth's, outfielder Al Woods was signed by scout Lee Irwin after he was chosen as the club's no. 2 pick in the secondary phase of the June 7, 1972, draft meeting. Woods continued his studies at Oakland's Laney College before reporting for his first professional season, but in his first full campaign, 1974, he was named to the All-Star squad of the Midwest League. Again like Brye, Woods' springboard to the pros was the famed Bill Erwin American Legion Post program.

Born March 4, 1953, in Great Lakes, Illinois. Height: 6 ft., 5 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in Lake Oswego, Oregon.

Although the Twins' last pick in the regular phase of the June 5, 1975, free-agent draft, big righthander Al Arthur showed such great promise as a relief pitcher in the Midwest League after signing that he was invited to experience his first spring training camp at the Orlando base of the Twins. Arthur starred at Stanford University, where his good sinker and slider first attracted the attention of Twins' scout Lee Irwin.

Born September 10, 1952, in Honolulu, Hawaii. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 180 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Single. Lives in Seattle, Washington.

His strong showing as a Midwest League reliefer last year prompted Gregg Bemis' rapid promotion to Triple-A ball when he was advanced to Tacoma on July 28. Bemis had joined Wisconsin Rapids on June 6, after having been selected as the Twins' 36th choice in the free-agent draft the previous day. Scouted by Jess Flores, Jr., during his collegiate career at the University of Puget Sound in Tacoma, Gregg has good stuff and unusually good control for a first-year pro. He was 28-6 for his four years at Puget Sound, including 7-0, 0.46, and two no-hitters in his senior year. He helped pitch the Anchorage, Alaska, Glacier Pilots to third place in the 1973 National Baseball Congress Tournament in Wichita.

Born September 10, 1952, in Cleveland, Ohio. Height: 6 ft., 4 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in Euclid, Ohio.

Not only did big John Lonchar step directly from the Big Ten to class AA ball, but he was an All-Star selection in the Southern League in just his second season out of the University of Michigan, where he earned a BBA in Business Administration. A leader type, Lonchar captained the Wolverines his senior year and was also captain of the baseball, football and basketball teams at Euclid, Ohio, High School, where he was first spotted by Twins' scout Floyd Baker. John was a four-letterman in baseball at Michigan.

Last June 30 was a red-letter day for lefty Dean Olson as he pitched the first no-hit game of his professional career, downing Clinton, 6-0, in the Midwest League. The occasion was no surprise to scout Walter Via, on whose recommendation the Twins made Olson their third pick in the June 5, 1974, free-agent draft. Dean was signed a short time later to a substantial bonus contract and the hard-throwing southpaw appears sure to bring the Twins a strong return on their investment.

Born March 4, 1951, in Cumberland, Maryland. Height: 5 ft., 9 in. Weight: 165 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Cumberland.

Advanced to the Tacoma roster after a fine season in the California League, speedy Sam Perlozzo led the Twins' organization in stolen bases in 1975. An Academic All-American at George Washington University, from which he earned a degree in Education in 1973, Perlozzo led the nation's collegiates in stolen bases in 1971. He was signed as a free agent by scout Ed Dunn after his junior year. Sam broke into the pros by leading Florida State League shortstops in the fielding tables (.952) in 1973. He switched to second base in 1974, and last year led California League keystoners with a .974-percentage, 82 doubleplays, 262 putouts and a league-record 444 assists. Offensively, he led the league in times-at-bat and sacrifices (15). Over his career, Perlozzo has been a 'tough strikeout,' fanning just once every 13.3 times up.

RANDALL, Robert Lee 'Randy' 2B No. 52

Born June 10, 1948, in Norton, Kansas. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 180 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Gove, Kansas.

Obtained by the Twins' Tacoma affiliate from the Dodgers' Albuquerque farm on December 23, 1975, in exchange for outfielder Danny Walton, tall second baseman Bob Randall tied for ninth in the Pacific Coast League's batting derby last year. In the league's All-Star Game, July 16, Randall's three hits sparked the East team to a 10-2 triumph over the West. A graduate of Kansas State University with a BS in Business Administration, Bob was both a baseball and basketball star at K-State . . . earning All-Big 8 honors at shortstop. He was Los Angeles' second pick in the secondary phase of the June 6, 1969, draft, and that summer led the Pioneer League in basehits. Switched to second base in 1970, he led the California League with a .967-percentage at that position. In 1972, Randall led the California in at-bats and hits, placed second in the batting race, was the loop's All-Star second baseman and was named to Topps Chewing Gum's Class A All-Star squad. In 1974, the first of his two All-Star seasons in the PCL, Bob led the league in hits, was second in batting, was named to Topps' AAA All-Star Team, and was easily the league's top doubleplay man at second base. Randall spent the past winter as a school teacher in Albuquerque.

REDFERN, Peter Irvine 'Pete' P No. 58

Born August 25, 1954, in Glendale, California. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in Sylmar, California.

The nation's no. 1 choice in the secondary phase of the January 7, 1976, free-agent draft, collegiate ace Pete Redfern was signed by scout Jess Flores on January 28 to the largest bonus contract the Twins have ever given to a righthand pitcher. A star with Southern Cal, Redfern posted a 9-3, 1.24, record for the Trojans last spring, fanning 120 batters in 109 innings, and was named to the Pac-8 Southern Division All-Star Team. For his three seasons with USC, in two of which they won the College World Series in Omaha, Pete was 16-6 and struck out 192 in 190 IP. Last summer, he pitched for the Alaska Goldpanners, of Fairbanks, who participated in the National Baseball Congress Tournament in Wichita, Kansas, and in October, he was a member of the U. S. squad which took part in the Pan-American Games in Mexico City. Redfern was named as Los Angeles' scholastic 'City Player of the Year' for his play with Sylmar, California, High School in 1972. Shortly thereafter, he was selected by the Cleveland Indians as their tenth choice in that June's free-agent draft but elected to cast his lot with USC, instead.

SMITH, William Coleman 'Coley' P No. 56

Born September 8, 1951, in Duarte, California. Height: 5 ft., 11 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats both, throws left. Single. Lives in West Covina, California.

After a rocky start in the Pacific Coast League last year, Coley Smith was optioned to Orlando on July 12 and proceeded to burn up the Southern League over the balance of the season. The little lefty finished all four games he started for the O-Twins, but it was as a reliefer that he really sparkled. Smith pitched out of the bullpen in his last twelve appearances and was not scored upon, as he won two games and saved three in that stretch. Coley was scouted for the Twins by Walter Via and Jess Flores starting with his days at Edgewood High School in West Covina, California, but it wasn't until he pitched his West Covina team to the American Legion National Championship in 1970 . . . he tossed 21 scoreless innings in the national tourney and was named to the All-Tournament Team . . . that they pursued him in earnest. After two All-Conference seasons with Mt. San Antonio Junior College in Walnut, California, Smith signed with the Twins as a free agent.

Van WYCK, James Robertson SS No. 50

Born August 6, 1948, in Richland, Washington. Height: 5 ft., 9 in. Weight: 165 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in Thousand Oaks, California.

A University of Oregon grad, infielder Jim Van Wyck came to the Twins' organization in the minor league draft of November 27, 1972, when the Orlando club selected his contract from the Walla Walla, Northwest League, farm of the San Diego Padres. A movie bit-player on occasions in the off-season, Van Wyck also enjoys the unique distinction of being a vice-president of one ballclub while being a player for another! He serves in the executive capacity with the Portland team of the Northwest League, his duties primarily concerned with the off-season business affairs of the club. Jim was named the All-Star second baseman in the Northwest League in his first pro season and tied for the league-lead in sacrifice flies, 5. He was that league's All-Star shortstop two seasons later when his .944-percentage in the field was tops at the position. He set a league record of nine straight hits, July 28-29, 1972, vs. Seattle. That August, he was named as Topps 'Player of the Month' in the Northwest. Blessed with outstanding lateral movement, Van Wyck is a hustler who loves to play the game. He was a two-year captain of the Oregon baseball team and graduated with a BS in Mathematics.

WYNEGAR, Harold Delano, Jr. 'Butch' C No. 49

Born March 14, 1956, in York, Pennsylvania. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats both, throws right. Single. Lives in York.

The Twins' second draft-choice in June, 1974, catcher Butch Wynegar is a shining compliment to the judgment of Twins' scout Ed Dunn. Shortly after signing a substantial bonus contract, Wynegar went out and led the Appalachian League in hitting. He also led the league's catchers with a .987 fielding-percentage and was the All-Star receiver. Then, last year, he was the All-Star catcher of the California League, was second in the batting race and led the circuit in games-played, rbi and bases-on-balls. Again, he was the top-fielding catcher, with .989, and he threw out 99 runners! He was named as 'Player of the Month' for July by Topps Chewing Gum. A switch-hitter, Butch hit three homers in one game for Elizabethton in 1974. The big fellow was a third baseman until he was moved behind the plate in his junior year at Red Lion High School in York, Pennsylvania. He was a four-letterman in baseball at Red Lion and also lettered in football, basketball and wrestling.
